Gothenburg:

There is no guarantee that your incoming students can study other courses than included in our department’s selection. I can do my best to try to arrange this but it depends on the answer from the department where the course is held. Optimal is that the incoming students will study most of their selective courses here at the IT-faculty.

We will not plea a document with English skills or language test. It is up to the partner universities to make sure that their nominated incoming students will be proficient in English and be able to follow the lectures given.
